

The ONLY Counseling Game You'll (Probably) Ever Need!

With 32 different SEL topics and endless possibilities to play, you'll get the most bang for your buck with our Make Your Own Counseling Games!

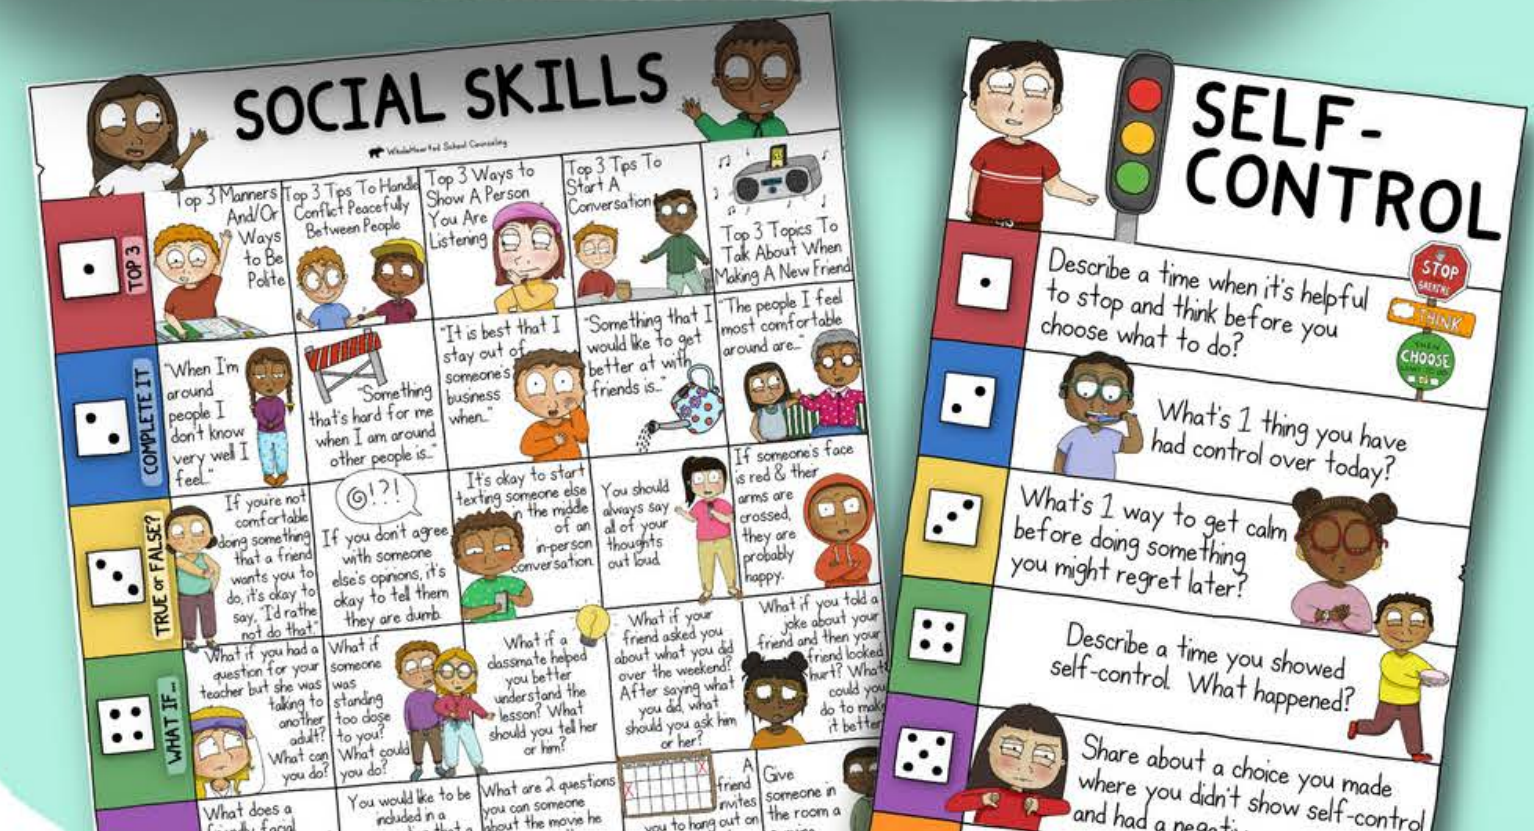

This is one of my favorite resources. There are so many different ways that you can use this resource. It truly is an all in one resource for such an amazing price.
-Sahar

What You'll Love About This Set of Games

- 32 topics to choose from! Over 950 questions + prompts!!
- You'll SAVE TONS OF MONEY
Color & Number coded prompts allow you to turn virtually ANY GAME into a counseling game! Plus games work on their own, too!
- DETAILED VISUAL SUPPORTS = INCREASED STUDENT ENGAGEMENT
relevant and FUN for students to use!
- Different formats (30 prompts & 6 prompts) + adaptability allow for DIFFERENTIATION
- Low-Prep & easy to use in small groups, individual counseling & even classroom lessons, too!

So much room for creativity but there's a lot of guidance and structure to make the rest of the work easy. 10/10 recommend purchasing this resource!!! -Abigail

Use As Stand Alone Games or...

COMES WITH 3 PRINTABLE GAME
BOARDS, 40+ PAWNS & DICE!

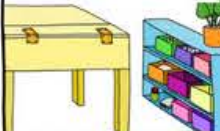

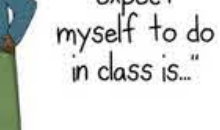

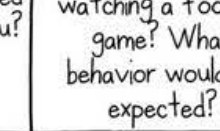

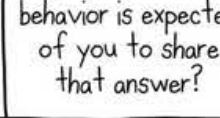

Turn Almost Any Other Game Into a Counseling Game!

SPIN a RED?
Respond to this row!

DRAW or LAND ON a GREEN?
Answer question from the this row!

ROLL a 5?
Answer a prompt from the "5" row!

EXPECTED BEHAVIOR
 TOP 3	Top 3 Expected Behaviors At Home 	Top 3 Expected Behaviors In The Classroom 	Top 3 Expected Behaviors During Recess 	Top 3 Expected Behaviors In The Cafeteria
 COMPLETE IT	"Something the principal expects students to do is..." 	"My parents expect me to..." 	"Something I expect myself to do in class is..." 	"Two examples of expected behaviors to be a good friend are..."
 TRUE or FALSE?	Using a tablet or phone is an expected behavior during recess. 	Raising your hand to talk during class is an unexpected behavior. 	Yelling inside the library is an unexpected behavior. 	Standing on your desk is expected behavior.
 WHAT IF...	What if you are taking a test? What are 2 expected behaviors? 	What if you talked while a classmate was giving a presentation? Is this expected behavior? 	What if you were at the movie theater? What behavior is expected of you? 	What if you just did something expected of you at home? What would it be and how would you feel?
 RISK!	Act out an expected behavior in a restaurant. 	What is one emotion a classmate might feel if you did something unexpected at school? Show the facial expression of that emotion. 	What is something that your family does not expect you to do? Act it out. 	How might your teacher feel if you yelled while he was teaching? Show his facial expression.
 YOU JUST...	You just saw your classmate sleeping at his desk. Is this expected behavior? 	You just thought of an answer to your teacher's question. What behavior is expected of you to share that answer? 	You just got to the playground. What are 3 unexpected behaviors you might see? 	You just walked into the grocery store. What do you do that's expected?

I was looking into buying therapeutic games (the Ungame, The Talking, Feeling and Doing game, etc.) to use with my counseling groups but when I came across this bundle I bought it immediately. It provides way more topics than your traditional therapeutic board game and can be adapted to any game you already have without having to spend a ton!

-Karla

The 32 Topics Include:

Anger	Girls Group
Attendance	Goal Setting
Boys Group	Growth Mindset
CBT: Think-Feel-Act	Homework
Classroom Guidelines	I-Messages
Conflict Resolution	Intake Interview
Conversation Skills	Joy and Happiness
Coping Skills	Loss and Grief
Divorce	School Success
Empathy	Self-Control
Executive Functioning	Self-Esteem
Expected Behavior	Self-Regulation At School
Feelings	Social Skills
Flexible Thinking	Technology / Screens
Friendship	When a Loved One Is In Jail
Getting to Know You	Worry and Anxiety

Over 950 Questions & Prompts!

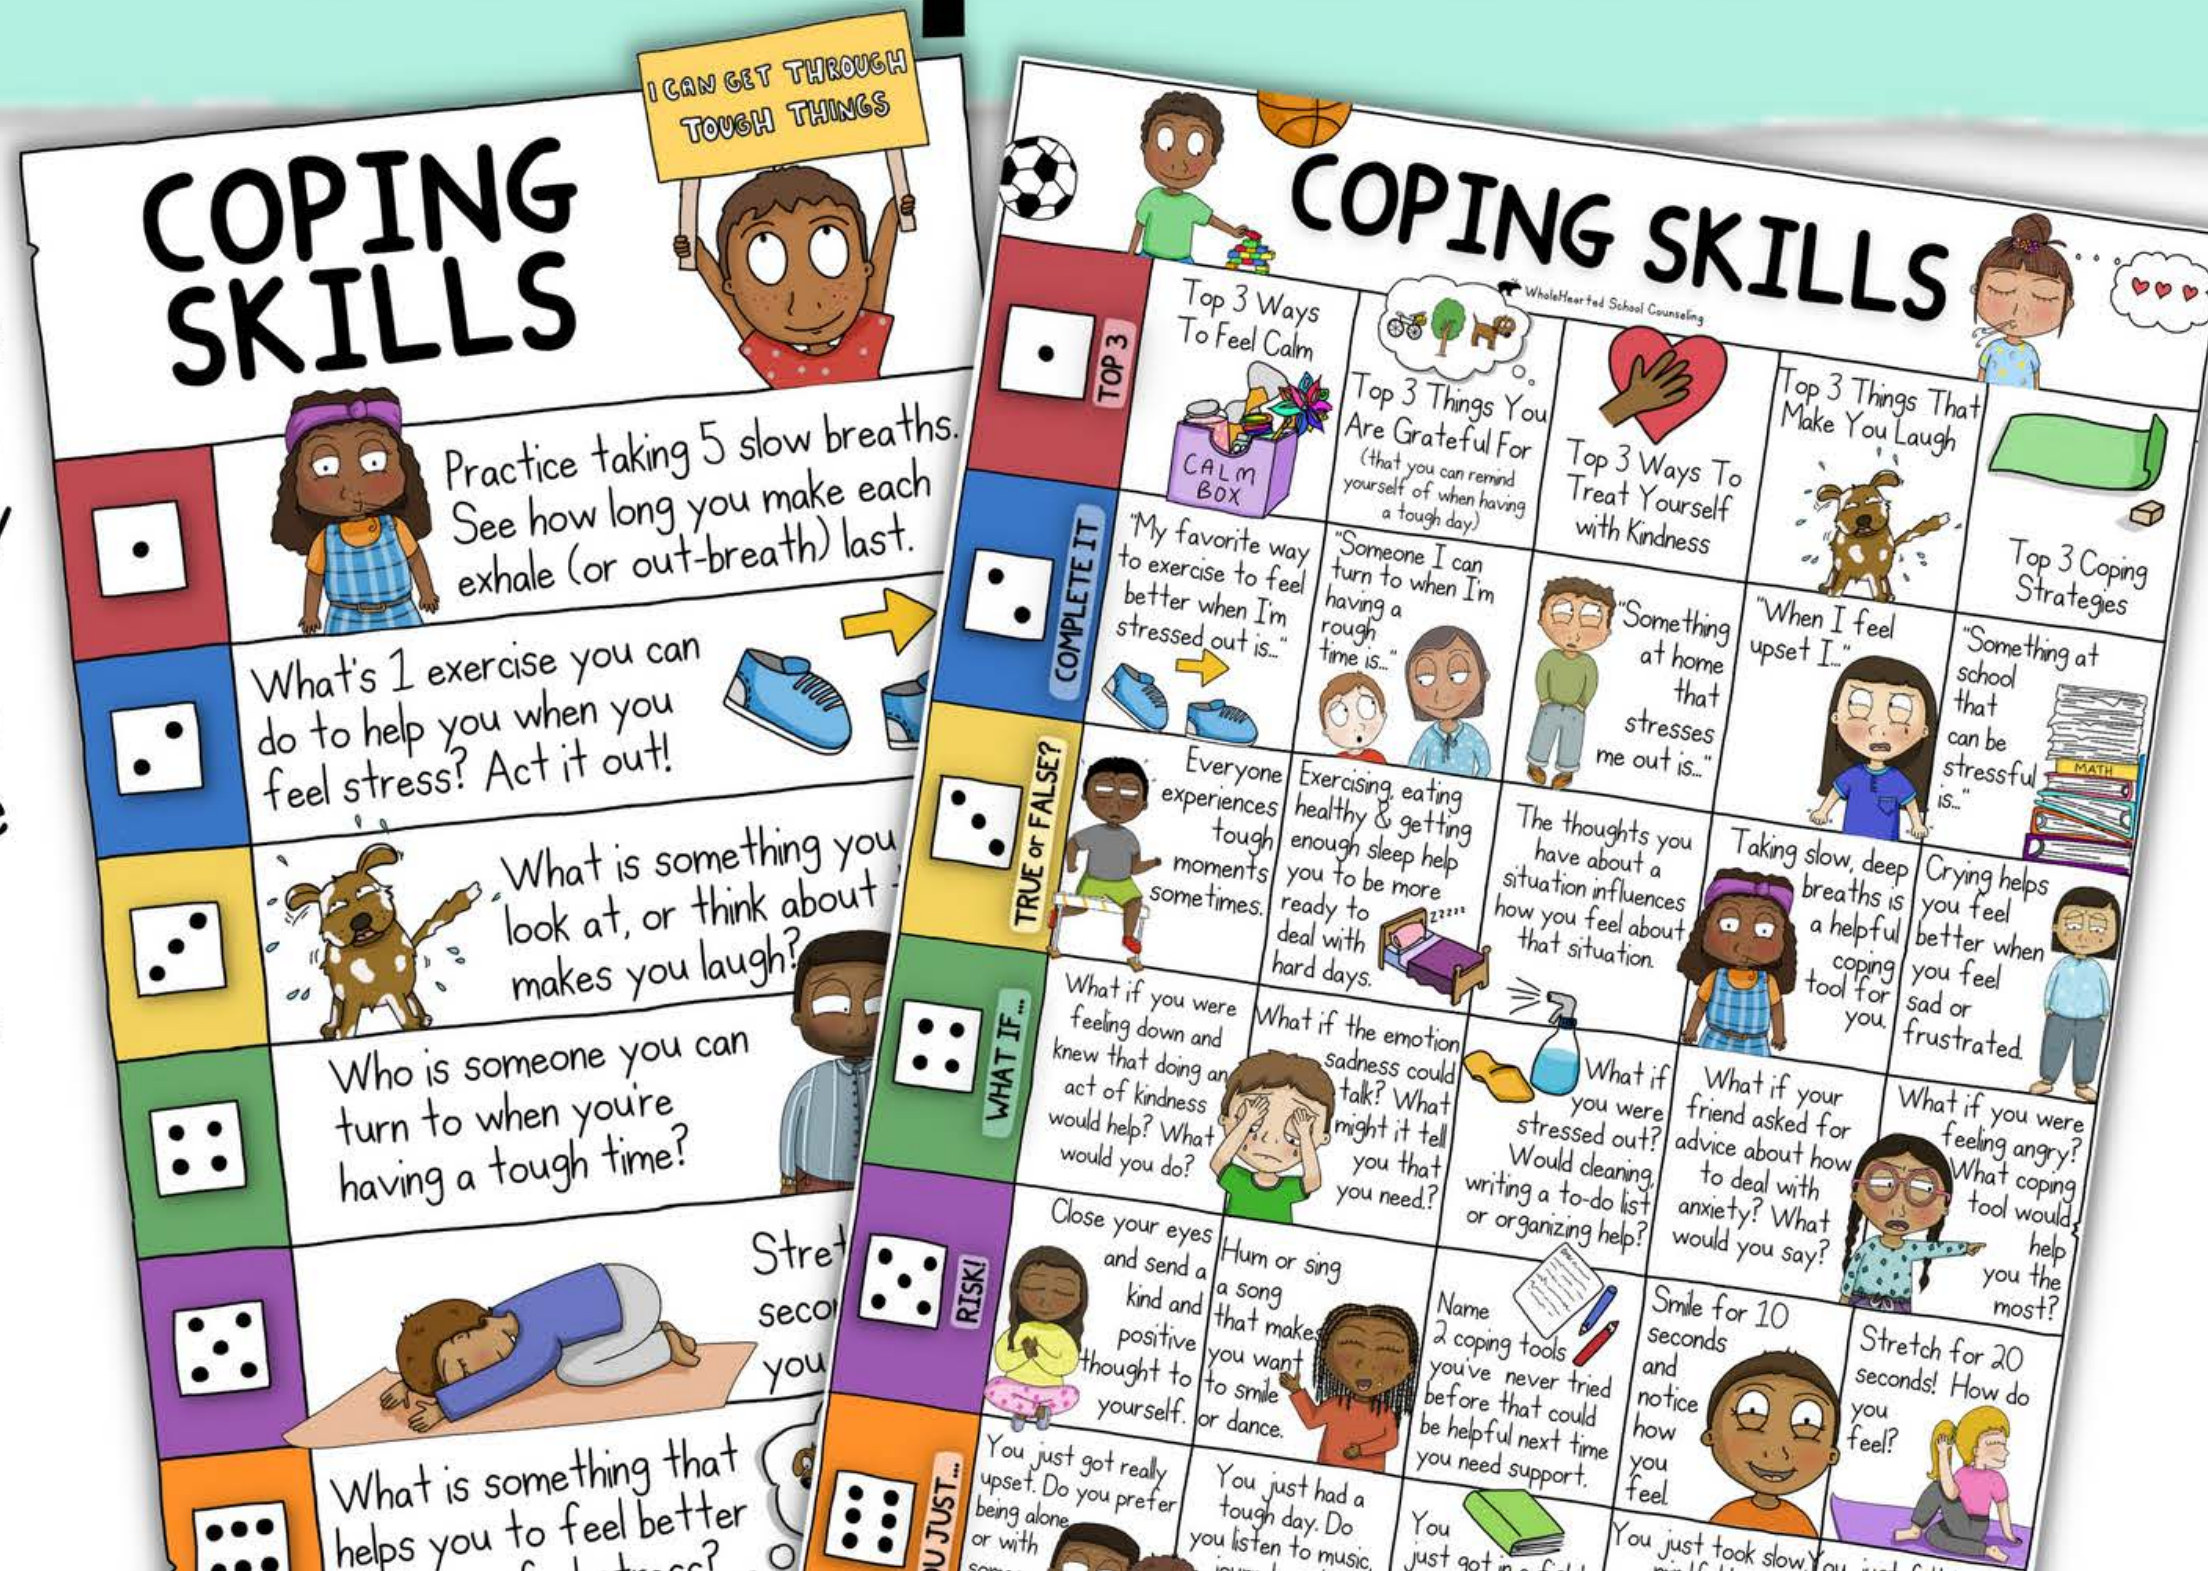

I use this resource all the time! Thank you! Easily adapted, easy to prep, and so fun...my students and I love, love, love it! -Michelle

Each Topic Includes 30 and 6 Prompt Sets

6 prompts per game card are open ended and repeatable. They can be answered or practiced more than once, even if it's the same player.

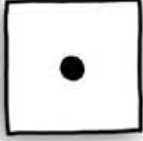

- Promotes flexible thinking AND generalization skill building.

30 prompts per game card provide tons of variety and the categories make it feel like a "real game"

Check out the categories on the next page!

30 Prompt Set Categories Are:

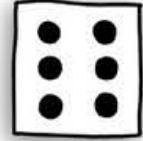

RED  TOP 3: Player shares what their 3 best/3 favorite/3 highest ranked/"top 3" answers are.

BLUE  COMPLETE IT: Player completes the sentence.

YELLOW  TRUE or FALSE: Player responds to the statement with either "true" or "false."

GREEN  WHAT IF: Player responds by answering what they would do in a particular situation.

PURPLE  RISK: Player answers and/or follows the directions, many of which are experiential and role-play based.

ORANGE  YOU JUST: Player places themselves in a situation that just happened and answer the prompt.

Available in Digital Format, too!!

This is such a great price for everything you get! I'm very happy with the included virtual gameboard and the many possibilities for using the topic discussion questions.

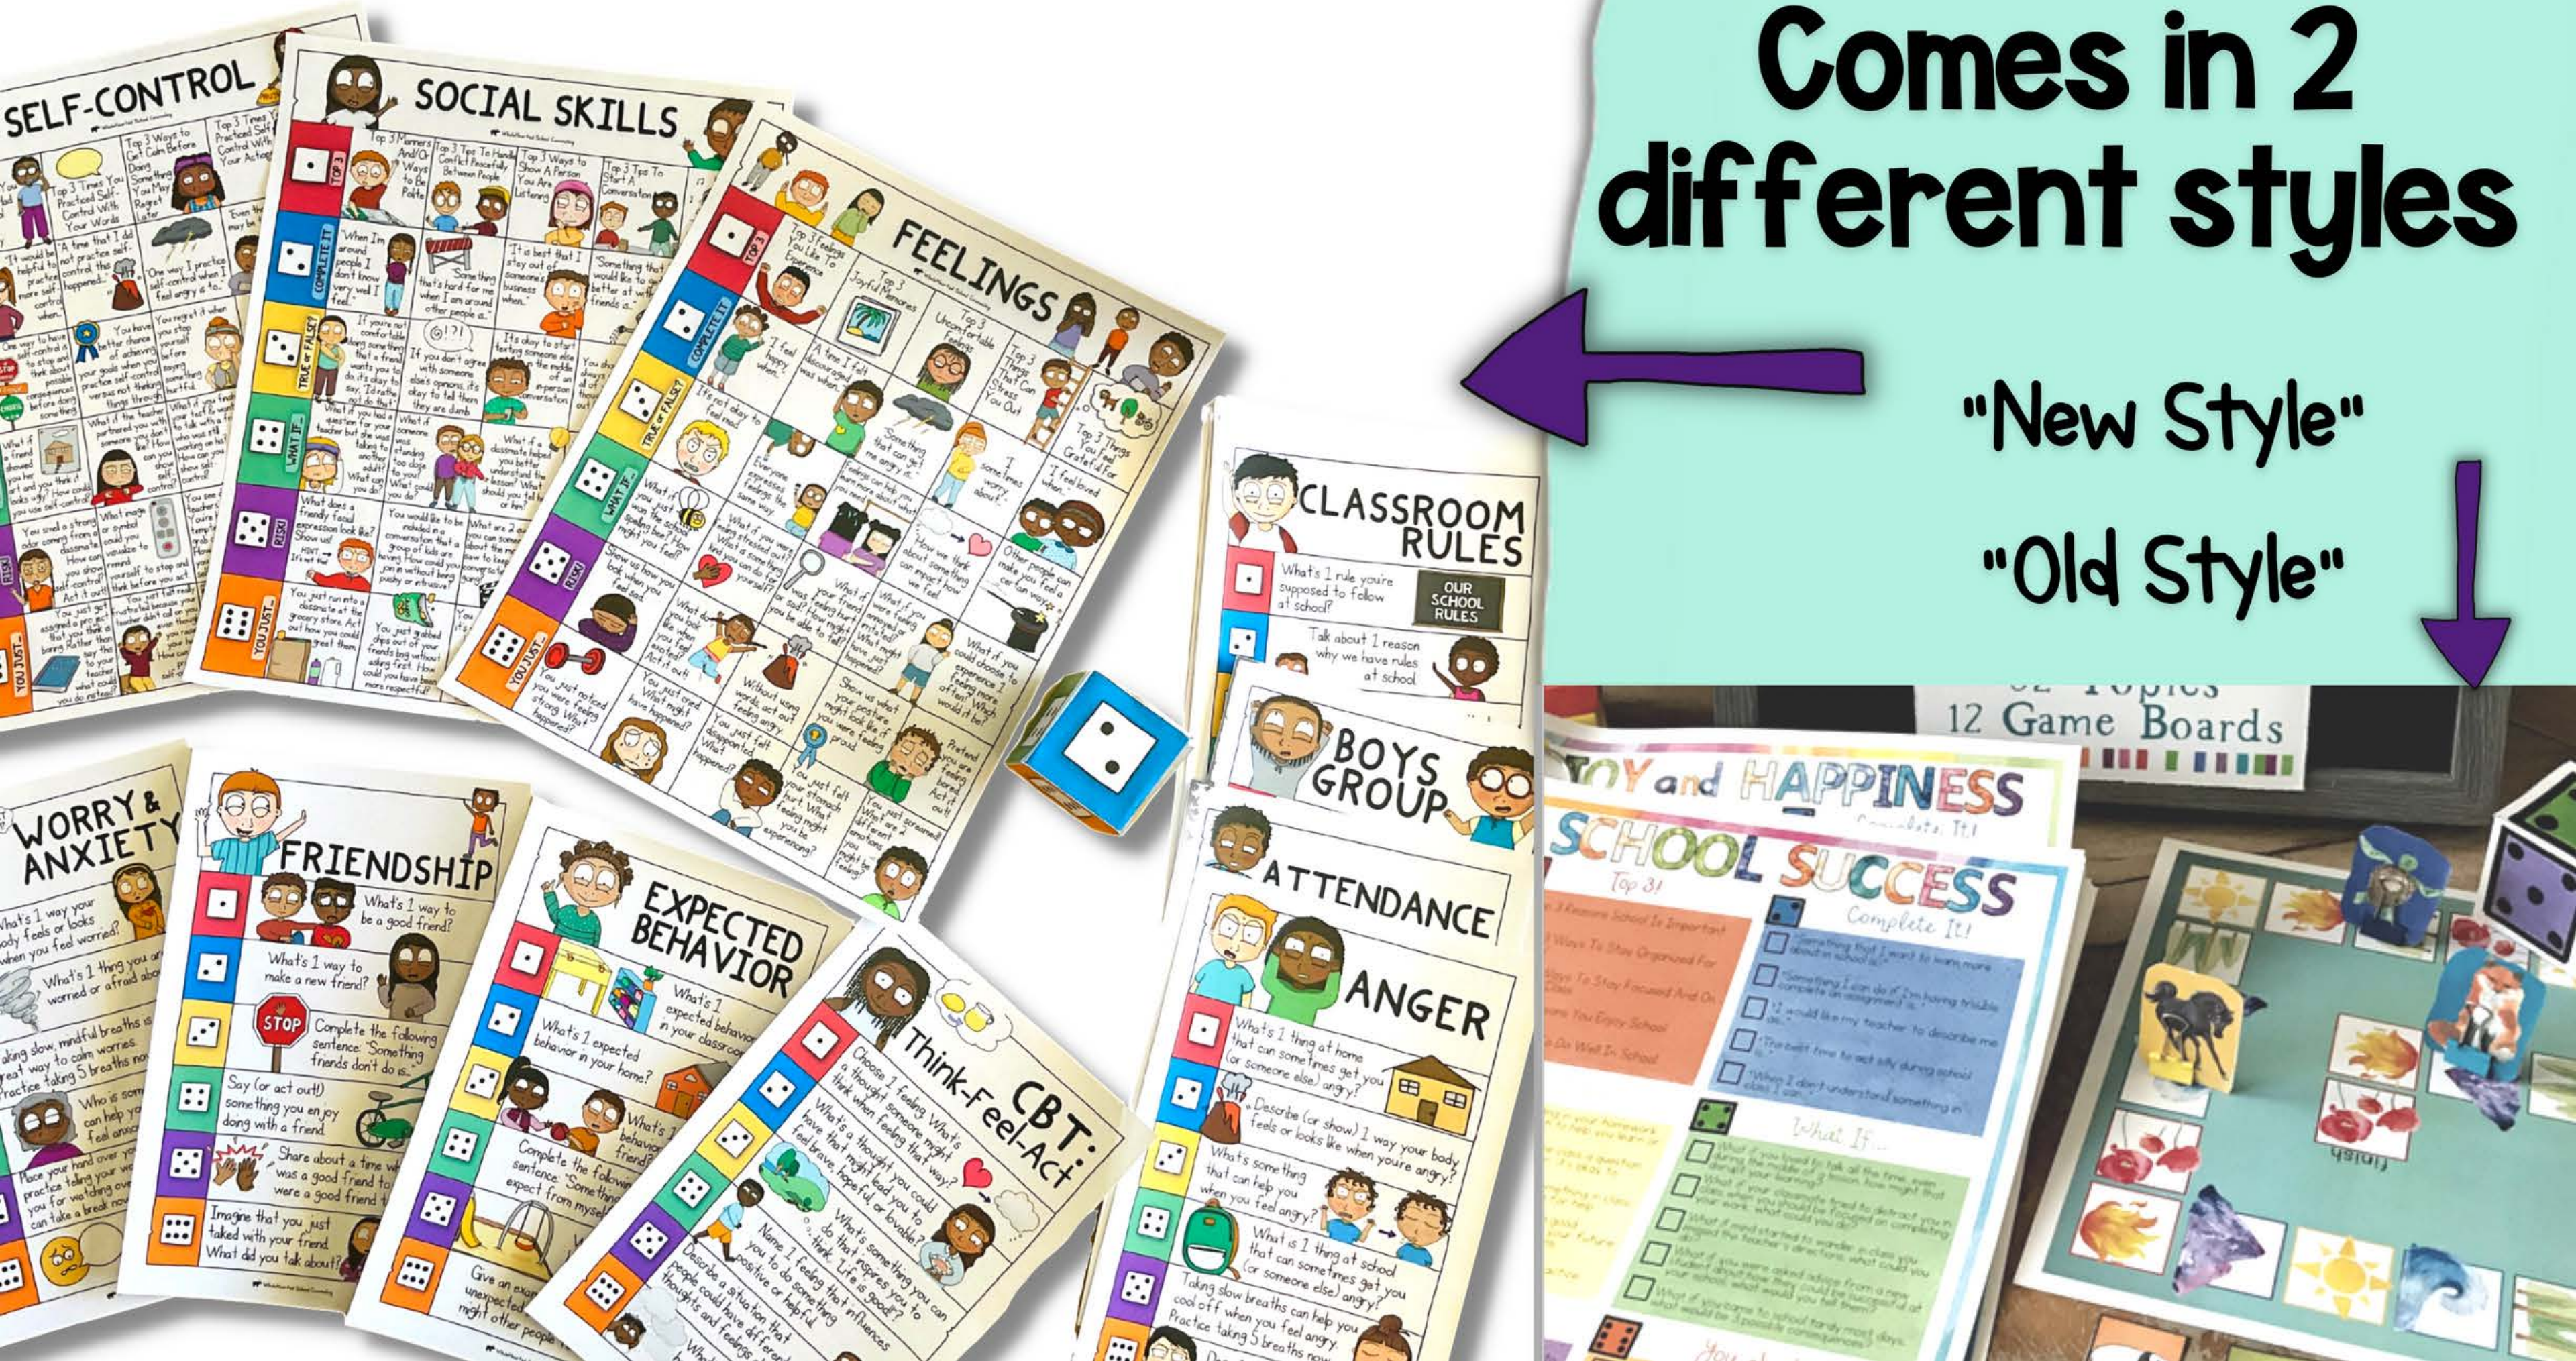

-Psyched to Learn

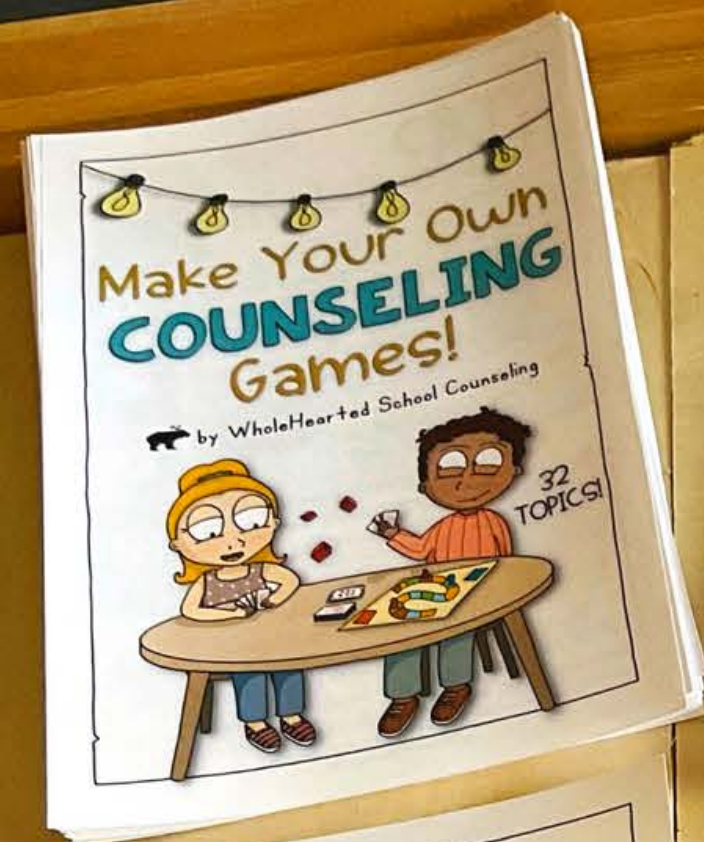

Comes in 2 different styles

"New Style"

"Old Style"

I love this resource! It is so easy to use and so fun/creative. Definitely buy this resource if you do not want to spend money on buying other games. It is great to have a go to counseling game where students can choose their board face, pieces to play with, and topic! Must buy!!!
-Ashlyn